Bay-Waveland Schools push for parental involvement

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Bay-Waveland Chapter I sponsors are implementing various programs to help parents assist their children in becoming better students.

Debbie Cox, Chapter I supervisor at North Bay Elementary School reported during October, several volunteer parents will be trained and sent out into the community to establish support groups, through which ideas to help children learn can be shared.

The intent of the "Success-N-School" program is to share information and methods. "Every parent parents as he has been parented," said Cox.

She explained the education process doesn't just end with the sound of the dismissal bells. Parents need to know how to be involved.

The "Success-N-School" programs consist of a series of four videotapes:

—Fanning the Flame encourages parental recognition in finding the child's strength and building on it.

—Self-esteem and Achievement points out ways to encourage responsible behavior.

—The At-Risk Student Can Learn addresses the students who already are having difficulty, along with those who are approaching difficulty, through improved study skills and testing preparation approaches.

—Motivating the At-Risk Student establishes the comfort zone in which the student can work to potential and identifies behavior influences.

Chapter I is a federal aid program to assist the average to less-than-average student to achieve full potential.

Cox is currently offering educational tools such as flash cards, games, videotapes, books to any Chapter I parent in need through a newly-established parent library.

She spoke of an upcoming talk on October 30 concerning time management. "Anyone could benefit from this one," said Cox.

Babysitting services will be provided at no cost during the talk.

Parents interested in further information concerning the "Success-N-School" program should contact Kim Stasny at North Bay Elementary, 467-0938, or Barbara Cropp, 467-0444.

Bay council explores natural gas options

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Bay St. Louis City Council took action Thursday on a proposal to join the Mississippi Gas Authority (M-GAM) for one year, approving Kay Johnson as representative.

M-GAM is a gas purchasing group, through which lower prices can be negotiated.

The city had been purchasing gas in the spot gas market through a broker. The contract with the broker expires today, giving the council the option to seek an alternative.

District Two Councilman James C. Thriffley asked that state and federal representatives be informed of the "Christmas robbery," referring to the pipeline difficulties which caused the city to "eat $6,000."

Once the city purchases the gas, it must contract to have it transported. Last Christmas, because of the extreme cold, the pipeline stopped transporting the spot gas, purchased by the city.

It would transport tariff gas, owned by the pipeline, at an increased price, causing the additional $6,000 expense.

United Gas, the pipeline company, failed to notify the city when it could return to transporting the spot gas, causing the continued purchase of higher priced gas when it was not necessary.

The gas transportation contract with United will end in January, and the council is concerned with finding an alternative.

The construction of a four-mile pipeline of the city's own was given as estimated cost of $50,000 per mile.

Another suggestion was to enter into business with Waveland, who owns their own gas line.

Johnson suggested the council contact Mississippi State University representatives, who are conducting studies in the gas market.

Mayor Edward Favre presented the council with an amended 1989-90 budget.

Favre reported a cut in expenses saying, "General funds are expected to be $35,000 more than anticipated; utilities should be $260,000 more, and the cash balance should be $502,000."

In other business:

—Noel Phillips of Dolphin Press presented a case for the city to use a professional graphics firm to design a city logo, rather than a contest.

Phillips is one of several people scheduled to appear before the council as they continue considerations of the logo.

—Approval of $3500 for survey work on a parcel of land which will become property of Bay St. Louis.

—The 500 block of Main Street was a concern of Councilman James Rutherford, who requested resurfacing.

—Granted approval for the Bay St. Louis Business Association to use the city park for its annual picnic was given for October 13.

The council adjourned, to meet again on Tuesday, October 2.

Local real estate agents not upset by court order

BY TRACI BONNEY

Thanks to a recent federal court order, out-of-state real estate brokers can now sell property in Mississippi, if they are properly licensed.

However, that doesn't seem to bother most local real estate agents.

Carol Shippey of Key Properties commented, "I don't think that's going to affect us. Logistically, out-of-state brokers can't service this area properly."

She pointed out that most real estate agents from other states will not know the Gulf Coast area well enough to sell property here. In addition, considerable time could be involved in traveling to this area from elsewhere — New Orleans, for instance — then showing the property and traveling back.

Realtor associate Rachael Thiac, of Coldwell Banker/Nell Frisbie Inc., said the biggest misconception among both the public and real estate agents is that "Louisiana real estate agents can just drive over on a Sunday and sell property in Mississippi, or that we can drive over there and sell. That's just not the case."

Thiac said the Mississippi Association of Realtors and other real estate organizations were among the main supporters of proposed legislation to remove the residency requirement for licensing real estate agents. The legislation failed, but the matter was settled when real estate agents from REAL ESTATE—Page 8A

Republican committee valid in Waveland

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

There exists in Waveland a valid Republican Committee, said Evelyn McPhail, Mississippi Republican Party chairman, at a news conference Saturday afternoon during the annual Hancock County Republican Cook-Out, held at the residence of Dr. A.K. Martinolich.

McPhail said, "There has been a great deal of confusion in Waveland, as well as a host of rumors stating that a Republican Municipal Committee does not exist to certify Republican candidates, and that a challenge might be made after the election."

"Mississippi law requires that a Temporary Municipal Committee be set up by each party to certify their candidates. The Temporary Municipal Committee was set up in Waveland on March 11, 1981, after all legal procedures were meticulously followed as set forth in the Mississippi Code."

A legal notice had been published four times in The Sea Coast Echo prior to the meeting.

McPhail indicated that even though she is the State Republican Party Chairman, she was at that particular meeting when the group was formed, as she is MCPHAIL—Page 2A

Garbage heads agenda at supervisors meetings

BY TRACI BONNEY

Waste was the subject of the day at the Thursday and Friday Board of Supervisors meetings.

At a Thursday workshop meeting, county supervisors discussed with Lloyd Compton, an engineer from Pascagoula, the various aspects and problems associated with putting a sanitary landfill in the Standard community.

Some counties have landfills in use already, but of those who have applied in recent times, Hancock County is one of five in the state which has received a permit to create a landfill for its residents.

Compton recommended the supervisors contract with Barry Vittor and Associates to conduct a study to determine exactly where in the landfill site possible wetlands are located, and the most cost-efficient method to mitigate (replace) them.

Under state wetlands regulations, the county must mitigate 1.5 acres of land for every acre of wetlands used.

Compton said the study by Vittor should cost no more than $4,500 and should take about three or four months to complete.

At Friday's regular meeting, Compton reiterated his recommendations, and the council passed the necessary authorization for the study to proceed.

The supervisors also voted Friday to authorize the filing of a second petition of eminent domain by the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District through Stephen Guice, the district's attorney.

The first petition was filed when the district and Peter Casano of Diamondhead Utility Company were unable to come to an agreement on the sale of the community's water system. Commissioners of the water and sewer district, which currently operates Diamondhead's sewerage system, want to make the entire utility system a public entity.

The second eminent domain petition concerns the district's inability to negotiate a price for LANDFILL—Page 8A

Thursday power outage affects thousands locally

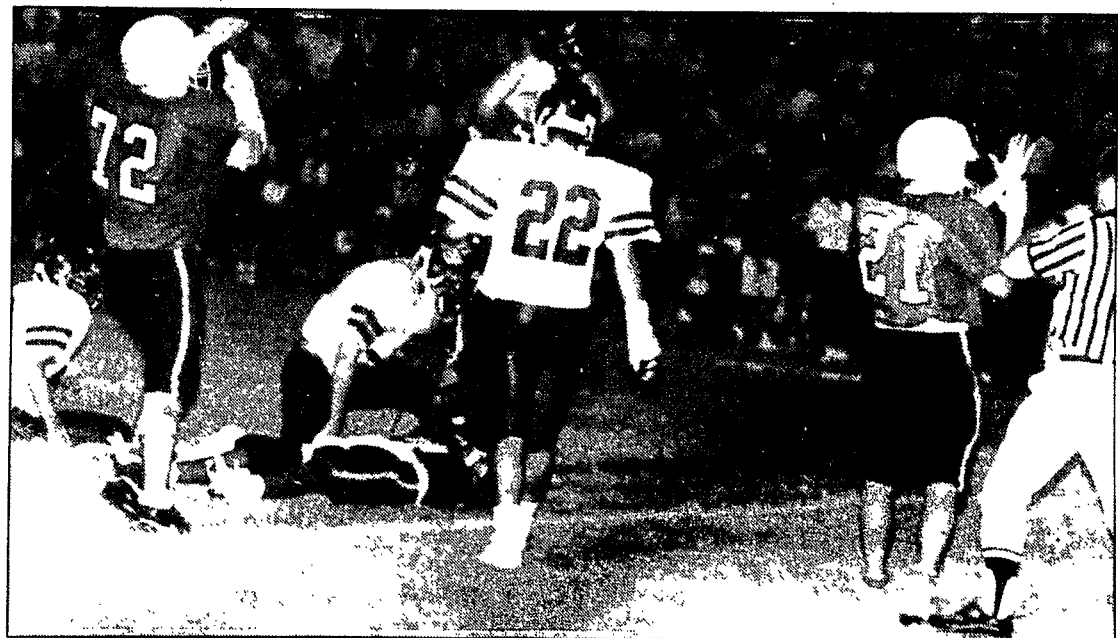

A tree cut during a logging operation fell across one of Mississippi Power Company's 115 KV lines knocking out power to residential and industrial customers in Hancock County at 8:45 Thursday morning.

The logging was being done in a remote area behind the Waveland welcome center between Kiln and the Stennis Space Center.

The outage affected Stennis Space Center (5,500 employees), the Army Ammunition Plant (490 employees), GE Plastics (130 employees), and approximately 1,600 Coast Electric Residential customers in Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead and Waveland.

Power was restored to the residential customers at 10:25 a.m. Because the line damage was accompanied by the loss of a transformer at the Logtown substation, restoration to the large industrial customers, following replacement of the transformer, was completed at 1:51 p.m.

Death ruled accidental

BY TRACI BONNEY
 The final ruling in the death Wednesday of a Hotel Reed Nursing Home resident agreed with the preliminary finding, according to Hancock County Medical Examiner Norma Stiglett.

"It was an accidental drowning," she said Friday.

Daniel Garnet Picton, 72, formerly of 410 Coleman Ave., Waveland, was found floating in the water near the Bay St. Louis railroad bridge around 7:43 a.m. by Stanley Hamilton of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and Sheriff's Department Deputy Jim Odom.

a resident of Diamondhead.

Two of the original members of the committee were with Mrs. McPhail at the news conference, Kenneth McKenna, chairman and Gordon Stone, member.

This is not the first city in the state to have similar rumors, McPhail said. "Last year the same type of rumors were in Corinth, Purvis, Sumrall and Senatobia."

She emphasized, "We wish to assure all Waveland voters that the candidates who have qualified to run as Republicans have every right to do so — after all, this is America — and they are legally certified Republican candidates. Any challenge to their legal certification would be unwise, and will not, in my opinion, even be attempted."

This is the first time for Waveland to have candidates running as Republicans.

Two of the candidates who have qualified thus far as Republicans for Waveland's primary election in November. They are John Mason, candidate for Mayor, and Stan Weidman, candidate for Alderman, Ward Four.

Liberty has a price

The Bible says in 1 Corinthians 2:17, "Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord."

God has given us the choice to serve him or not. He has given us the Bible to show us how. If we are going to serve him, we must do it his way.

Man has always tried to serve God the way he wanted to. The problem with that is that God will accept man's service only if it is done God's way.

Proverbs 16:25 says, "There is a way that seemeth right unto man, but the end thereof are the ways of death."

Man has tried to change the Gospel to fit the ways of the world, but God says he does not change. (Malachi 3:6)

It is not for us to bring God down to our level. God says in 2 Corinthians 6:17 that we must leave the ways of this world and become separate.

God is not out to make us miserable or to take away all our fun. He has commanded us to do these things for our own benefit. In other words, God has commanded us to live life to the fullest.

Jesus said, "I have come that you might have life, and that you might have it more abundantly." God wants us to prosper and be in health. He wants us to live an abundant life.

He wants it so much that he has asked us to live according to his ways, and since his ways are higher than our ways, we can live above the world.

Don't get caught up in the age-old lie of the devil that the best times of your life are behind you. Your greatest days could be right ahead of you.

There is a joy that God gives which cannot be found anywhere else but in a life that is separated unto him.

Liberty has a price. The price is being different.

"Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." (2 Corinthians 3:17) gambling is morally wrong and contrary to the spirit of Scripture.

gambling is a result of human greed and a desire for wealth-without-work.

gambling is a parasitic enterprise that thrives on a weakness of people who long to get-rich-quick.

gambling depends solely on chance for a profit unlike legitimate business which takes acceptable risks.

gambling can become as addictive and as serious as alcohol or drug addiction.

gambling often has ties to organized crime and when "legal" gambling is tolerated by a community, the elected public officials have a more difficult time resisting the influence of "illegal" gambling.

gambling is estimated to be a 50 billion dollar-a-year industry which produces no new wealth, but deprives society of wealth which could be used productively.

gambling is a menace to society, deadly to the best interests of moral, social, economic and spiritual life and destructive of good government. Community standards and personal life styles should be such as would make unnecessary and undesirable the resort to commercial gambling, including public lotteries, as a recreation, as an escape, or as a means of producing public revenue or funds for support of charities or government.

We therefore proclaim publicly our beliefs and call upon our elected officials to rigidly oppose gambling because we believe it is not in the best moral or economic interest of our community.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This is the time of year when forestry firefighters are the busiest.

Now is the time we must be very careful not to set the woods on fire.

Our county forester Mark Jamieson is concerned about the dry weather especially with the "fronts" passing through.

As a matter of fact, burning permits are necessary for residents of Bay St. Louis or Waveland to burn trash or brush.

Even in the county, it is now requested that persons burning brush notify their fire stations so that if someone reports a fire, the firefighters will know if they need to investigate.

Residents must remember, if a fire leaves a person's residence, they could face a fine and/or a jail sentence.

Those who smoke are asked not to throw lighted cigarettes or cigars along the roadside as they can now very easily start a woods fire.

I also urge everyone not to burn at this time, and if it is absolutely necessary, I suggest they take all available precautions.

If you are looking for something to do this afternoon, you may want to visit Diamondhead's Annual Arts & Crafts Show.

Events get underway at 11 a.m. with the opening of the booths and also includes Sunday Brunch at the Diamondhead Country Club.

This would be a good time for folks to get a jump on their gift purchases, as there will be so many quality items offered in wood, fabric, quilted, etched glass, tie-dyed, hand painted, shellcrafts, potpourri, etc.

I hope to see you at the Arts & Creative Crafts Show this afternoon.

Hussein spoils Colonel's R & R

The Vietnam War Memorial in Biloxi is close to the start of construction. Project chairman Henry Cook's wife is expecting a baby. Just when Cook, 53, a retired U.S. Army Colonel from Bay St. Louis, was due for a little rest and relaxation, Iraq's strongman Saddam Hussein stepped into Kuwait and spoiled the situation.

Cook put everything on hold — well, almost everything — and volunteered for duty at the U.S. Special Operations Command in Tampa, Fla. Hussein can't stop the Colonel's wife Ginger, who is scheduled to deliver the couple's third child in March, but Cook notes, "Now we will get to have an Army baby."

"It will be green," Cook was quoted in his local paper as saying. "Maybe we'll have a warrior."

I want to be the first to commend Cook, who is a personal friend. I'm proud of how he finds humor in valor. I'm proud of his patriotism, his resolve. In the same breath, I want to commend the commitment of hundreds of other South Mississippi regular forces and reservists who are putting their lives on standby and selflessly answering the call to duty.

It can't be comfortable. Agreeing to travel far from family and friends to live in a desert or even at domestic military bases that are close, yet still so far away.

Notes Cook however, America is showing the world "that we have a capable military" and "the resolve of the people" behind the cause. America has learned from its mistakes in Vietnam and this time "stressed a total force" commitment in the Middle East, requiring the regular military, the reserves and the National Guard, if necessary.

Cook's career as a "warrior" began 37 years ago. He was 16½ years old when he signed up for the service. He told the recruiter he was 17. A Vietnam veteran, Cook served two and a half tours of duty. He was shot in the leg when enemy fire destroyed this bunker. Cook never talks much about his injuries, or the horrors of war. Instead, he's focused on the benefits of the sacrifice that we sometimes must make.

For the last year or so, Cook has been working toward the completion of a $1.5 million Vietnam War Memorial in Biloxi's Point Cadet Plaza to honor every Mississippi veteran of the war.

Construction of the project has been put on hold while Cook participates in Desert Shield. Contributions can still be sent

Cable company not fulfilling obligation

To the Editor:

It's really getting frustrating. After four years of calling the cable company (Multi Vision) to get cable installed, I still get the same old run-around.

What makes me even more angry is the fact that I only live about a mile behind the cable company office.

Multi Vision has an obligation to supply cable to the City of Waveland. They have not strung one foot of cable in several years. On top of that, Mayor John Longo of Waveland has done nothing to force Multi Vision to honor their commitment to the community. He was elected to serve the people, not the cable company.

I want something done now. I'm sure another cable company would take over the lines in Waveland if Multi Vision won't do their job.

Senior citizens' benefits must be protected

Dear Editor:

I fully agree with a letter written by our Senior Citizens director Eve McDonald on Aug. 23 stating it is essential that our congressmen use their influence to protect our senior citizens.

From having an out-of-pocket cost increase for Medicare, some of us hardly get by on our incomes, and if we are unable to hold a job, it's hard to make ends meet. We have great difficulty surviving, having to pay utilities and Medicare supplement insurance. How can the President of these United States, the land of plenty, propose a cut of $5.5 million dollars in the Medicare program, when we have people starving in our country?

Senior citizens, you know we have a strong vote. Why should we have these people in office if they can't provide us with hope to survive? Does this mean we have to die for the want of attention?

We are hoping our representatives are looking out for our elderly and will continue to help us survive.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Lang

ASRM test locally was bad political decision

Dear Editor:

A year ago a group of us started fighting NASA's proposal to test the Advanced Solid Rocket Motor at Stennis Space Center. In that year my convictions have grown.

This is a political decision that should have never been made. It is not based on merits; it is, indeed, deeply political.

On Friday, Sept. 7, a motor of the Titan IV was "dropped" and blew up at Edwards Air Force Base in California. These motors are much smaller than ASRMs and use the same exact solid fuel, which is what we oppose. (There are alternative fuels available.)

In the news that evening, and the other news accounts the next day, reports talked about the "plume of toxins" and the "cloud of poisons."

Yet, when NASA held their public meetings in August, they talked about the ASRM cloud as "discharges" and "emissions."

I picked up on the grotesque difference of words based on one's perspective. Of course, I have always felt that the pollution from ASRM was poisonous and toxic. I resent other words.

Words cannot change the facts. Some 275 tons of hydrogen chloride and 175 tons of aluminum oxide dust are spewed out with each test. Hydrogen chloride seeks out water or humidity to form concentrated hydrochloric acid—the most corrosive acid found in a laboratory!

Omissions, deletions of facts, distortions and half-truths have been blurred with an intimidating subject matter. NASA has not been up front from the beginning, and as I sat through their public meeting, which was supposed to "make the public feel better" about these very toxic tests, I was angered by their manipulations.

It is obvious that they count on us not delving into the "intimidating subject." I even called a local newspaper once and asked why they have taken an editorial stand on everything except this very important issue. That was the reason given. Difficult subject matter. It's not true. What more does one need to know? Concentrated hydrochloric acid, folks. That's it. And it's linked with aluminum.

The two main ingredients, alone, are bad, but acid-coated

Homecomings: Too many at one time

Homecomings are celebrated during football season by just about every high school in our nation.

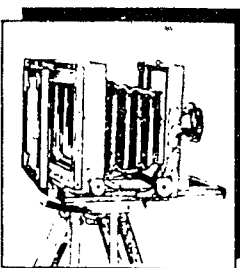

The season spans about a ten-week period in September, October and November.

It just so happens in Hancock County we have three high schools with football teams, and, you guessed it, all three have homecomings on Friday, October 5.

This is unfair to alumni of the local schools, as there are some folks who would like to attend at least two of the homecomings and a few with ties to all three schools.

Some folks ask, why can't there be a little communication between those scheduling the games, so the homecomings will not all be on the same night?

It is hoped that something will be worked out for the 1991 homecomings.

Lozano announces bid for Ward 4 alderman

Carlos Lozano, 66, a resident and community leader of Waveland, has announced his candidacy for alderman, Ward Four, in the Nov. 6 Democratic primary.

The quality of life in Waveland helped Carlos and his wife Lois decide to move here from New Orleans in 1958, since then raising five daughters, two sons and 10 grandchildren.

Lozano has retired from his marine services company in New Orleans and remains as director. He is a Naval veteran, past commander of American Legion Maritime Post 247, and a member of numerous business organizations.

His past and present community activities include membership in the Waveland Civic Association. He has assisted with St. Clare Catholic Church's building campaign for a parish hall, as well as with its annual fair. He is past president of the National association of Marine Services.

"My experiences with my own business and the many other organizations I have been associated with have given me the ability to solve problems quickly and to reach desired goals," said Lozano. "I hope to bring this experience to Ward four and Waveland city government."

Merchants sought for Hancock Bank show

Hancock Bank has announced plans for the second annual Hancock County Merchants Christmas Showing. The show will be Saturday, Nov. 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Local merchants are encouraged to participate, to show the public the merchandise they have to offer.

Merchants are invited to sell their wares during the show.

According to James Ginn, "The idea of the show is to encourage people to shop at home. We want people to know that we have quality products here in Hancock County, and that it benefits our economy when residents shop at home.

"Our first show was a success. We showcased more than 30 merchants in the area. We hope to increase amount of participants this year."

Interested merchants should contact Sherrell Johnson, c/o Hancock Bank, P.O. Box 2460, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521, telephone 467-5431.

Ocean Springs festival scheduled in November

Craftsmen, artists, restaurants, civic clubs, merchants and churches are invited to apply to participate in the Ocean Springs Mississippi 12th annual Arts and Crafts Festival and Food Fair scheduled for Nov. 3 and 4.

Activities include fine arts and crafts exhibits, traditional and ethnic foods, live entertainment and musical groups.

The fair is juried to assure only quality arts and crafts are present.

For booth information contact the Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 187, Ocean Springs, MS 39564.

Free legal advice offered Wednesday

On Wednesday, Oct. 3, from 6 to 7 p.m., a staff of volunteer attorneys will be answering legal questions from the general public at 1-374-4160.

This is no longer a toll-free number. All calls will be charged to the telephone from which the call is made.

This service is sponsored by the Harrison County Young Lawyers, the South Mississippi Planning and Development District's Area Agency on Aging, and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

The "First Wednesday Legal Line" offers the public an opportunity to call for legal information and referral services for a specific problem.

This service is especially intended for elderly, handicapped and low-income individuals who may not have access to an attorney or who may not know whether the problem requires the assistance of one.

However, everyone with a question about the law is encouraged to call.

Florida is also better off because of its lottery. Illinois is much better off with new schools. Illinois teachers are happier with their raises since they have lotteries.

The people in this state should open their eyes and really see the light and step ahead instead of being the lowest per capita income state, lowest in employment because no companies can afford to build here because of taxes being so high.

The government is always sending money overseas, but I think Mississippi needs it more than the other countries. Lawmakers are too dumb to get the money when they can. Taxed gambling could bring needed money to Mississippi

To the Editor:

I am only one voice, but I would like to be heard just like these people against gambling.

They keep on saying gambling brings in organized crime. That may be true to some extent, but we already have an awful lot of crime now, and it can't be blamed on gambling.

Lack of work could be one factor. If legislators would sit down and take a look at what the money from the taxes from gambling could do, they might change their minds.

The only thing ministers are looking at is how much less money they will get in their churches. If a person wants to gamble, I think he should have that right.

I thought this was a free country, but we seem to be told all the time what we can and can't do.

I saw what the tax money from a lottery did in Pennsylvania. They have better schools and apartments for the elderly. They pay rent at these apart-

Defenses shine

Hawks edge Rocks 7-0

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The battle of high school defenses was the name of the game when the Hawks of Hancock High School visited the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws Friday night in Bay St. Louis.

The Hawks eked out a 7-0 victory over Stanislaus in the defensive struggle with the Rocks threatening on the longest drive of the night by punting the ball.

The only score of the game came in the third quarter when Stanislaus quarterback Bill Dreher was sacked by one of his own men, the end of the ball which was taken by the Hawks' defense for a 14-yard loss.

The starting drive began when Hawk quarterback Reggie Goff handed off to Jerome Goff, who moved for one yard to the 12. On the next play, Goff hit Jerome Vince with a short pass to the 7, followed on the next play by the nifty running of Bobby Doyle for the touchdown.

Gabe Lumpkin's PAT gave the Hawks the 7-0 edge with only 1:40 left in the third quarter.

Stanislaus' long drive began on their own 3-yard line after a Goff kick with four minutes left in the game.

Dreher engineered the drive, which included a long gainer on a shovel pass to Ken Booker for 16 yards. Some crucial running by Booker, several passes and a couple runs by Tate Thriffiley also contributed to the effort.

The Rocks had driven to the Hawks 21-yard line with only seven ticks left on the clock.

The final play of the game was when Fletcher, a standout on defense for the Hawks, sacked Dreher to end the contest.

Both head coaches, Irvin Farve and Ken Lyons, offered great praises for their entire teams, especially the defensive squads, at the end of the game.

Farve said, "It was tough defense all night. Stanislaus was the best team they have had for some time. When you are undefeated, everyone is shooting at you. Both teams played great defense."

Lyons stated, "I thought we outplayed them both offensively and defensively. We played the best defensive effort of the season. The turnover (in third quarter) was the big factor."

Both squads were 'up' for the game, and so were the supporters who overflowed the stands. Tackles were hard and crisp, and each quarterback tried various attacks throughout the contest to move the pigskin.

Each team's supporters kept shouting, "defense, defense," trying to encourage their defensive squads when the other squad had the ball.

In commenting on surprises in the game, Lyons said the "flooding of the zones" hurt his offense, while Farve talked about the Rocks' "slanting" causing his team problems.

Lyons had high praises for SSC punter Scott Peterson, who hung the ball high on pressure punts all night.

The firepower of both squads was stymied by great defensive play most of the night. Each offensive player appeared to have been well scouted.

The leading ground-gainer of the night was the Rocks' Booker with 73 yards in 11 carries and one pass for 15 yards.

The Hawks' firepower of Goff and Vince was held to 54 yards on 12 carries and 23 yards on eight carries respectively.

In total offense, Stanislaus held a 152 yard to 126 yard edge, while converting eight first downs to the Hawks' seven.

The game started with both teams a bit tense, as each squad fumbled in early play.

Great defensive plays were made throughout the night with quarterbacks and backs of each team being thrown for losses or no gains.

In first downs by quarters: first quarter — Hawks 1, SSC 2; second quarter — HHS 2, SSC 1; third quarter — HHS 1, SSC 0; and fourth quarter — HHS 3 and SSC 5.

Stanislaus fumbled five times and lost two, while the Hawks lost both their fumbles.

Penalties played a role in stopping several drives by both squads.

Hancock is now 5-0 for the season and Division 8 Class leader at 2-0. Stanislaus is 3-2 and are 1-1 in division play. The Rocks' two losses were by a total of 11 points.

Prior to the Stanislaus game, Hancock had a 30-point-per-game average with Stanislaus showing a 19-point average.

Next week Hancock will show off their new stadium next to the John C. Stennis Airpark during homecoming activities.

Hancock will host the St. Martin Yellow Jackals, who are 2-3 for the season and 0-1 in division play.

St. Stanislaus, too, will have homecoming, in which they will host Salmen, La., in Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

motion penalty moved the ball back to the 8-yard line and with 7:15 remaining in the half, Jason Loiacano's field goal attempt was wide to the left.

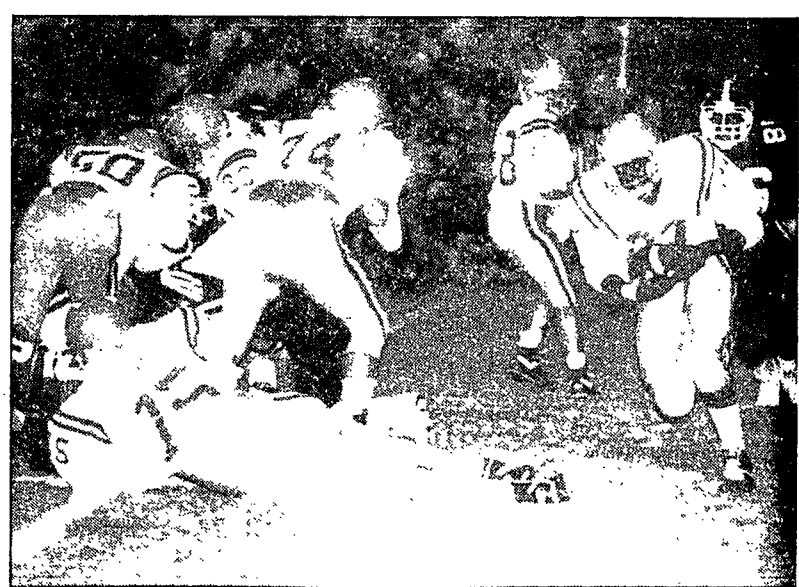

The Hornets scored once more in the first half on an 11-play drive with the score coming on a 15-yard run by wide receiver Jerry Loper. The PAT attempt was blocked, and the teams went to the locker rooms with the score East Central 20 Bay High 6.

East Central took the opening kickoff in the second half and drove down the field to set up a quick TD. The score came on a 19-yard run by senior running back Tommy Huff. The drive took four plays and one minute, 56 seconds.

The Tigers' only second half touchdown came on their next drive. Two passes from Charlie Mitchell to Mike Scharp, and a 32-yard run by Rogers, set up the score. Larrone Lewis made the score on a run from 2 yards out.

The Tigers went for 2, but Mitchell's pass to Scharp fell incomplete.

Hornets sting Tigers 35-12

Special to the Echo
BY BURT TAYLOR

The East Central Hornets unleashed a punishing ground attack to beat the Bay High Tigers 35-12 at Hornet stadium Friday night.

The Hornets began the scoring early in the first quarter after they recovered a fumble on the Tigers' first drive at the Bay High 29. Four plays later, with 7:15 remaining in the first quarter, senior running back Jason Hudson ran in from the 3 yard line for the TD. The PAT was no good and the Hornets led 6-0.

Scott Rogers scored the first BHS touchdown with a 17 yard run in the first quarter on a 16 yard run, after setting up the TD on a 60 yard run from scrimmage.

The Hornets' next score came on the following kickoff as Tim Simmons raced 90 yards for a TD.

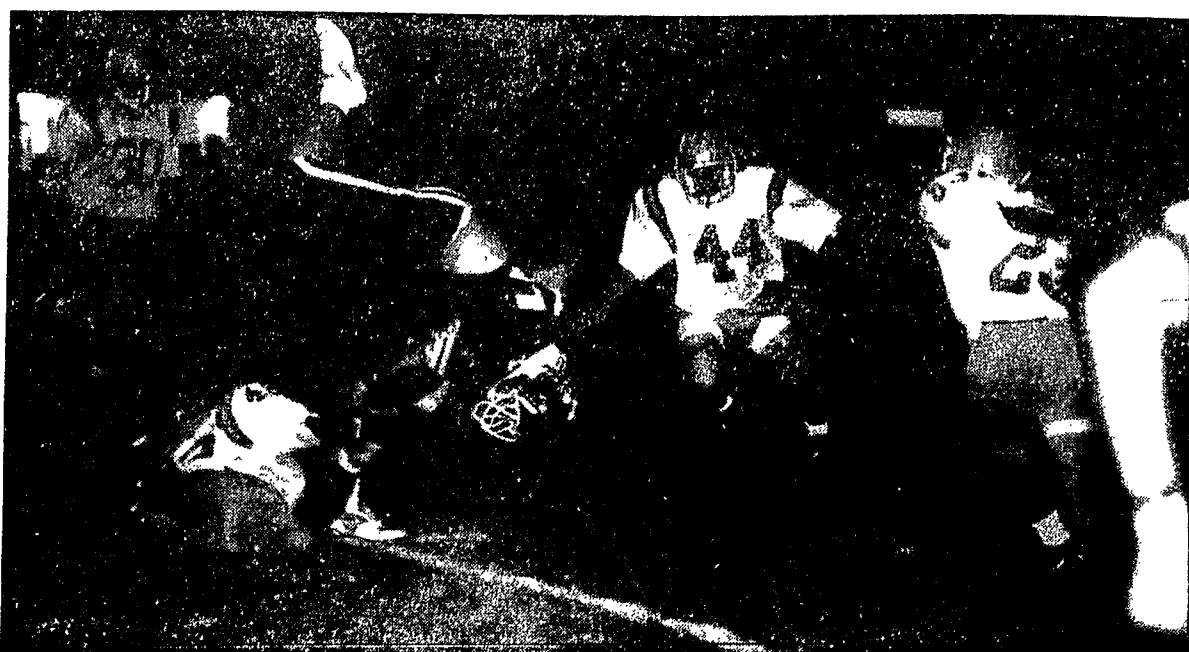

Although the Tigers were beaten handsily by the Hornets, their running game was impressive at times with Rogers leading the attack.

The Tigers' only other scoring threat in the first half came when they drove to the East Central 3-yard line. An illegal

Pirates sink in final seconds to Tomcats

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCKEE
The Pass Christian Pirates were defeated by the Stone County Tomcats in a game that proved to be a rough-and-tumble contest.

With just 17 seconds left to play, Tomcat Brent Huff kicked a 27-yard field goal that gave his team a 16-14 edge over the Pirates. His first attempt had failed, but thanks to a Pirate penalty he got a second chance. "The Pirates played a good football game," said Tomcat head coach Larry Easterly. "They did a great job playing us. They have a good football team both offensively and defensively."

Late in the first quarter Pirate quarterback Tracey Watts hit wide receiver Ryan "Boo" Jenkins with a TD pass to make the score 6-0. The PAT was no good.

In the second quarter Stone County quarterback Bobby Fox completed a TD pass to Huff to put 6 of their own on the scoreboard. The PAT was good, and the Tomcats were ahead 7-6.

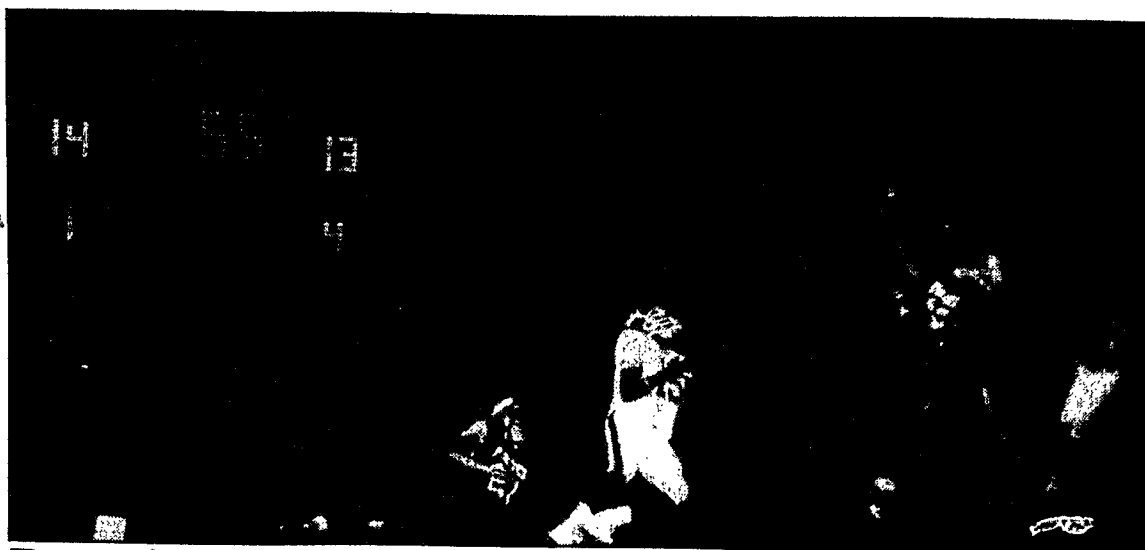

At halftime, when asked what his third quarter strategy would be, Pirate head coach Joseph Brown said just one word: "Execution."

The Tomcats added 6 more points to their lead with 6:38 left in the third quarter when Artie Moore hustled into the end zone. The PAT attempt failed, and the score was 13-6.

But the Pirates were not ready to walk the plank. With 11:03 left to play in the fourth quarter Winfred Rials smashed his way across the goal line to score. A two-point conversion attempt was successful when Watts hit Burnell Dedeaux with a pass in the end zone.

The score was now 14-13 in favor of the Pirates, and one would have thought that an earthquake had hit the Pass Christian stadium. The Pirates and their fans smelled victory. Unfortunately for the Pirates, it turned out to be a false scent.

"Come on clock," Watts was heard to say with three minutes left to play. His desire to see the clock wind down was a sentiment shared by his teammates, as well as the Pirates' fans. The Tomcats fought back, though, with a determined drive that brought them to the Pirate 15-yard line. That is when Huff put his best foot forward to give Stone County a 16-14 victory.

"We made some mistakes in the early part of the game," said Easterly. "We told our team our goal is that every time we line up we need to get just a little bit better. We were off our toes a couple of times."

The statistics showed just how close the game really was. The Tomcats rushed for a total of 153 yards to the Pirates' 145. They also gained 14 first downs to the Pirates' 10. Total passing yardage for Stone County was 89. Pass Christian achieved a sum of 40 yards.

Next week the Pirates take on East Central in an away game, while the Tomcats meet Forrest County.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Suffering inspires us

Scanning a back issue of "Sports Illustrated" recently, my eyes fixed on the powerful arms of a mountain climber scaling the perilous face of El Capitan in Yosemite National Park.

"Just another mountain climber," I told myself. For the record, mountain climbing is spectacular, but it doesn't melt my butter.

Upon closer scrutiny of the picture and its accompanying text, I was jolted to see that the climber, Mark Wellman, was a paraplegic who, dragging his all-but-useless legs behind him, and borrowing a bit of help from partner Mike Corbett, defied all odds by conquering the difficult mountain. In this case, the picture of Wellman is definitely worth more than a thousand words.

Sportsman of the Year was the subject of the letters surrounding the photo. One correspondent laid it right on the line when he voted for Sportsman of the Year. "Jim Abbott, Dave Dravecky and the Giants and Mark Wellman... have proved that to limit our dreams is to ignore our potential."

Jim Abbott, of course, is the gutsy southpaw pitcher of the Los Angeles Angels who is cutting his teeth well in the majors despite the absence of his right hand.

Dave Dravecky became a darling of the media and the public alike when he came back from cancer in his pitching arm to win again in the majors. Although his arm broke with a loud report during a pitch when he suffered a recurrence of the cancer, thus ending his career, his raw courage and spirit will live on in the hearts of all who know him, read about him or saw him on the news.

What the above-quoted correspondent writes is no more or less than what most people write or say about any outstanding achiever such as Sportsman of the Year: all things being equal, that person is the greatest achiever who overcomes the most adversity. Briefly put, while we are impressed by the exploits of those who are healthy, talented and powerful, we are completely taken and inspired by those who are vulnerable, afflicted, pained, deficient, and yet able to do extraordinary things.

This deeply human inspiration spans the spectrum of the natural and on through the supernatural, helping the naturally motivated person as well as the spiritually driven.

It is supremely interesting that this uplift straddles both sides of our nature, and that our greatest moments of inspiration derive from encounters with those fellow humans who are defective.

We humans are most curious creatures who constantly aspire to and almost worship power, riches and their attendant fame; yet, we rally behind and pull for the underdog in most situations. We are constantly, inexorably drawn toward the wounded and oppressed.

Enter the issue of suffering. If there is any single subject which is continually questioned and virtually always deplored, it is suffering.

"Why does a compassionate, all-loving God allow suffering?" "What good does it do any human being to suffer, especially excruciating pain?"

There is, of course, no definitive, satisfying answer to either of those questions. However, there are partial, tentative answers—or questions which shed some light on those baffling questions.

How much less rich would we be, for instance, without a Helen Keller, a Mark Wellman, a Jim Abbott or a Dave Dravecky?

When Paul gloried in his afflictions, he echoed our greatest suffering Hero who inspired and uplifted every human being by bearing all our infirmities and carrying all our sorrows.

an underground easement with property owners Albert E. and Gayla Pressman. The easement is needed for the district's planned wastewater treatment plant.

After Gerald Gex, attorney for the board of supervisors, assured the supervisors no legal problem for the board should stem from the eminent domain suit, the supervisors approved its filing.

In other business, the board: —pledged its support to County Tax Assessor/Collector Edward Murtagh in his request that land sold to the state during the recent delinquent tax property sale be given to the county to be disposed of as it sees fit, so that the land and its revenues (if there are to be any) will benefit the county;

—accepted bids from People's Bank on a $200,000 loan for interim operations of the Road Maintenance Department, from Charlie Henderson Ford for a used 12-passenger van for the sheriff's department, and from Teltronic Communications for radios to be put in two new sheriff's department vehicles;

—took under advisement bids for equipment for the two new vehicles;

—and agreed, at the request from a county resident, to send a letter to the State Highway Department asking that the possibility be considered of lowering the speed limit from 55 mph to 45 mph on Hwy. 603 from Hwy. 90 to Interstate 10.

The board adjourned until Monday, Oct. 1.

Real estate

Tennessee went to court so they would be able to sell property in north Mississippi.

Maggie Hayden of Dantagan Realty said she thinks the court order may actually help business.

She explained that local real estate agents already work with those from Louisiana on a referral or cooperative basis to some extent. The licensing of non-resident brokers may encourage that status to continue developing, she said.

"My only qualm is that I think the out-of-state agents should have the same education and continuing education standards we have here," she commented.

Congratulations

Spanish Trail District Garden Club President Mrs. John Musgrove of Long Beach and Garden Clubs of Mississippi President Mrs. H. T. Miller Jr. of Drew congratulate Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. Thomas Murphree of Bay-Waveland Garden Club on being named top club in the Spanish Trail District.

Gulf Coast Newcomers Club

A style show presented by Jean-Anne Swenson of Papillion in Long Beach will be the program for the Gulf Coast Newcomers meeting on Oct. 10. Models will be members of the club.

A social hour at 11 a.m. will precede the luncheon at noon at the Best Western Beach View Inn in Gulfport.

Any woman who has moved to the Coast in the past three years is invited to join. This is a good way to meet other newcomers as well as members who have been here awhile and to learn about the area.

Call Jo Stanford at 832-2211 or Cathrine Rhodes at 255-3332 for additional information.

Hancock County Republican Women's Club

The Hancock County Republican Women's Club will meet at 11 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 4 in the Aloha Room of the Diamondhead Country Club.

The nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the coming year.

After the meeting, luncheon at the club is optional.

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club will hold a luncheon meeting at the Quality Inn in Diamondhead at 11 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 11.

After the meeting the Inn will provide an area for card playing. Members are asked to arrange groups in advance, bring cards, scorepads, etc., and plan to enjoy an afternoon of fun in pleasant surroundings.

Parents Without Partners

Thursday, Oct. 4, at the Gaston Hewes Recreation Center, 2806 17th Street, Gulfport, Parents Without Partners will host a circle discussion at 7:30 p.m.

All single parents are invited to attend and bring a friend.

Diamondhead Garden Club

A new season began for Diamondhead Garden Club when President Gerri Garberg called the Sept. 19 meeting to order. Prior to the Collect, a candlelight memorial service for Louise Mundy and Dixie Ogden was conducted by Marion Kollasch, Dorothy Booth and Grace Finley, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance recited by all members.

Betty Cutler, membership chairman, introduced guests Fran Robert, Sandi Wahl, Christine Sauter, Edie Murray, Suzanne Stewart, Pat King, Mary King, Nancy Yarbrough and Rhea Fox.

Garberg introduced the new treasurer, Louise Kolb, and new committee chairmen, Yvonne Luck, Good Garden and Golf Course Yard of the Month; Marjorie Hill, garden therapy; Betty Claggett, installation; Johnnie Boatright and Virginia Ludwig, Spring Pilgrimage; Anice Cartwright, world gardening; and Nina Cotton, pageant.

Annette Saucier, corresponding secretary, told members the city of Gulfport will be collecting books and games for distribution to U. S. troops in Saudi Arabia. Boxes will be located in all Gulfport city buildings, and all members were encouraged to participate in this effort.

Garberg announced the Diamondhead Garden Club awards which were presented at the Spanish Trail District meeting were Certificate of Appreciation/World Gardening, and Blue Ribbon Club Honor Roll award.

Events being planned for the future include a fashion show with models and apparel by Shamis. Shamis is to give away two outfits during this year's show set for Oct. 19 at the Diamondhead Country Club. Reservations are a must.

Pilgrimage, which will be April 3 in Diamondhead, will feature the McFaul garden, Carol and Paul Eckrich home, Mary and Ed Gobert home, Jean and Frank Jaumot home, Missy and Donald Marshall home and the home of Pat and Bill Taylor.

Other Diamondhead homes are to be added to the above for a super pilgrimage again this coming year.

Lee Fredian announced that 1991 calendars are now in and available for purchase.

Jean Keen suggested members start saving clear glass bottles in preparation for the April 2 flower show. Theme will be 'Songs My Mother Taught Me.'

Grace Finley announced a change in the date of the planned picnic at her Maunalani Place home. This year the event will be Oct. 25.

Horticulture tips for September-October were presented by member Yvonne Luck. She also announced the Golf Course Award for September went to the home of Dennie and Phyllis Dowell on the No. 5 Pine Course. Garden of the Month awards were announced by Nancy Schuback as follows: June, Jack and Pauline Roberson; July, Harvey and Jeanne Comfort; August, the Joe Dugas home in The Oaks; and September, the Louis Cook home.

All members were reminded the next meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 17, 10 a.m. at the Community Center. A board meeting will be at 9 a.m. preceding the general meeting.

Garberg thanked hostesses Virginia Webster and Betty Smart and turned the meeting over to Brierly Acker for the introduction of the guest speaker, Bob Brzuszek.

Brzuszek received a master's degree in landscape architecture from Louisiana State University and is presently curator of Pinocote at the Crosby Arboretum.

He supervises the 64 acres and presented an interesting and informative slide and talk presentation to the group. Brzuszek noted there are new trends in landscape planting now, and with increased environmental awareness, people are requesting native plants and shrubs which are hardier and already acclimated to South Mississippi soil and weather.

The slides showed many species and varieties of native plants. A handout featured a list of 20 best native plants for Mississippi landscapes. The official Mississippi wildflower is the coreopsis.

Pinocote will host an open house and plant sale Nov. 17. The Crosby Arboretum is open to the public each Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the first Sunday of each month from 2 to 4 p.m.

Boyd-Hornsten

MRS. ROBERT BOYD

First Baptist Church of El Paso, Texas was the setting for the August 11 marriage of Lisa Ann Hornsten and Robert Louis Boyd, both of El Paso.

Dr. Levi Price Jr. officiated at the noon ceremony. Musical selections were provided by soloists Gay Brown and Suzanne Bowles and organist Bob Dierdorf.

The bride is the daughter of Lawrence and Pauline Hornsten of El Paso. The groom's parents are Barbara Pruett Boyd of Bay St. Louis and the late Robert Louis Boyd Sr.

Attending the bride were Karen Brown and Linda Hornsten, matron and maid of honor, respectively.

Bridesmaids were Cynthia Hahmann and Helen Maddox.

Kristen Elyse Brown was flower girl and ring bearer was Lauren Waller.

David Hodge served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Eric Hornsten, Johnny Atherton, Mike Mills and Greg Williams. Ushers were Bobby Waller and Jesse Graham.

A reception followed the ceremony at El Paso Country Club.

Prior to the wedding, a rehearsal dinner was hosted at The International Club.

The couple resides in El Paso.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By H.
Randall Smith

Are your soybeans being bugged?

Many folks may think their soybeans are made and out of danger, but potential problems could still lurk around the corner.

As a matter of fact, I just received two calls from Dr. Blake Layton and Dr. Pat Harris (MCES Area Entomologists) warning they have found velvetbean caterpillars increasing their population in many fields. Therefore, producers should be able to recognize what's bugging their soybeans.

At this time of year, most soybean pests can be classified into two groups: foliage and pod feeders.

Foliage feeders include velvetbean caterpillars, soybean loopers, green cloverworms, beet armyworms and yellow-striped armyworms.

The velvetbean caterpillar (VBC) is a primary soybean pest in southern Mississippi. This caterpillar overwinters only in southern Florida and the tropics. The adult moves into the soybean fields and deposits eggs singularly on the underside of the leaves.

It will sometimes deposit more eggs in one portion of the field than in other portions which may give a spotted damage appearance.

The VBC can produce heavy populations quickly and cause extensive damage in a two to three-day period. These caterpillars are foliage feeders and do not feed much on the fruiting forms.

The velvetbean caterpillar larvae can be recognized by the four pairs of prolegs, broad, white lines that run the length of its body, varies from a light to dull green color, becomes very spastic when disturbed and has an orange and yellow head capsule.

Soybean loopers generally occur in large numbers. Loopers have a characteristic looping motion, white lines run the length of the body on the sides and top, the body tapers toward the head and have two pairs of prolegs (legs near the rear of the worm).

Green cloverworms may also have a looping motion but have three pairs of prolegs, are pale green with white stripes along the sides and become very spastic when disturbed.

Beet armyworms prefer feeding on soybean seedlings but will pig out on the bloom buds, blooms and small pods. The adult has a black spot on each side of the second body segment, curls up when disturbed, is grayish-green to near black with pale strips and, as with most armyworms, has an inverted Y on the forehead.

Other leaf feeders include the bean leaf beetles, lister beetles, and grasshoppers.

Bean leaf beetles are about .25 inches long and may have three or four pairs of black spots along the inner edge of each wing cover.

The adults are generally red to yellow in color and feed by chewing holes in the leaves. Larvae may also feed on the roots.

Blister beetles are orange in color with brown stripes down their body, are gregarious, and the body is much longer than it is wide.

Grasshoppers generally increase in population following dry years and may munch down on pods under certain field conditions.

Podfeeders include the bollworm (corn earworm), beet armyworm, and the green and southern green stink bugs.

Bollworms are the same insects found on cotton, are light green to pink, dark brown to rust in color with pale lines running in length of its body, have four sets of prolegs, are rather hairy and curl up when disturbed.

Stink bugs damage soybeans by piercing and sucking juices from the developing beans which can greatly reduce seed quality.

Adult stink bugs are green or brown and the nymphs are typically orange or brown in color but the colors may vary considerably before the adults develop. Late nymph stages can be as damaging as the adults.

A producer should be competent in identifying different stink bugs which do and do not cause problems in soybeans.

All green stink bugs are pests to soybeans, but not all brown stink bugs are.

Once the insects are properly identified, proper treatment thresholds can be used to avoid unnecessary and costly treatments. When determining thresholds, a producer should evaluate the number of insects and the percent defoliation.

For leaf feeding worms on soybeans that are blooming or filling pods with no diseased worms present, the threshold is four or more worms, at 1/2 inch or longer per foot of row or when 20 percent defoliation has occurred with worms at 1/2 inch long or longer.

For podfeeding worms, the threshold is four or more worms per foot of row and the stink bug threshold is one stink bug per foot of row from midpod-fill through maturity.

For more information about soybean insects, call the Hancock County Extension Office at 467-5456 and ask for a copy of "Know Your Soybean Insects" and the "Soybean Insect Control Guide."

Diamondhead Boaters 'cruise' to Italy

Special to the Echo

What started out as an ordinary party ended up as a real production on Saturday, Sept. 15, when the USS DBA set sail from the Diamondhead Country Club. The ship was designed and constructed by Rusty Cobb.

MGM or Paramount Studios could not have depicted a cruise ship or Italian scenes any better. Upon entering the club, passengers were led by uniformed cruise director Neal Hall and cruise hostess Nina Cotton up the gangway.

Sea gulls appeared to be flying over the ship along with signal flags and the American flag. The USS DBA appeared to be moored to pilings with ropes.

Ship photographers Les Stafford and Stu Finlayson took polaroid pictures of each guest on the deck near the portholes and along the railing. Cruise hostesses Cecile Grice and Sue Stout posted the pictures and led the way to the captain's champagne welcome party on the forward deck. The passengers were greeted by Captain Tom McMurry and his wife, Betty.

The ship docked in the Port of Italy where Cobb guided passengers to the Italian restaurant for dinner. Tables were beautifully decorated by Cecile Grice and Sue Stout with Italian flags and red, white and green flowers made by Cecile. The captain's table was decorated with flowers, balloons and feather plumes in colors of the Italian flag.

Familiar scenes and landmarks in Italy were made by Nina Cotton. The included the famous Trevi Fountain in Rome which consisted of three large water fountains with Roman statues.

Over the fountains were three large gold Roman coins made by Bernice Johnston with assistance of Sue Stout. While columns with Roman busts were placed along the walls and highlighted with tiny white lights in the background. A large mural of a Roman garden scene with statues covered one wall.

A statue of David by Michelangelo, on loan from Evergreen Nursery, was placed outside glass windows in a garden area. It was surrounded by huge pots of pink begonias and ferns. Purple grape lights decorated the band area.

Members of the band "Jamms" were dressed as gondoliers in striped T-shirts and straw hats. Accordionist John Calhoun strolled through the passengers playing Italian songs.

The voyage was enjoyed by the 164 people attending.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy
McGuire Caire

There are few more tasty and juicy cuts of beef than the beef brisket—that is, when it's cooked in the "low and slow" style, keeping the heat low and cooking slowly to tenderize this robust cut.

Properly cooked, the brisket affords delicious meals at down-to-earth prices. Many briskets end up as corned beef brisket, to be sure, and that's a good dish also. But fresh brisket has a great beef flavor, so that's why you'll find me hovering over the meat counters, choosing from among the briskets offered at special prices these days at area supermarkets.

The brisket is often sold, trimmed of excess fat and divided into two halves, the flat or center cut and the point cut. But the best buy, if you don't mind a bit of "cutting up" and trimming homework at the kitchen counter, is the whole untrimmed brisket. And, you'll save at the cash register just now on whole untrimmed briskets, 10 pounds and a bit more average weight.

You might share with a friend, if that's too much brisket for you, or ask your friendly butcher to cut it in half, and freeze one half for future use. At any rate, when you get the brisket home, trim off excess fat, but leave some on; fat gives that good, rich beef flavor, after all! You might try this ever so simple but good:

BRISKET IN FOIL

3 to 4 lbs. beef brisket
1/2 envelope dry onion soup mix

Pepper to taste
1/2 cup dry red wine
8 medium carrots
4 medium potatoes

Trim the excess fat from brisket, and place meat on a large sheet of heavy foil in shallow roasting pan. Sprinkle with soup mix and pepper, and pour wine around meat.

Peel carrots and potatoes, cut into halves or serving-size pieces and arrange around meat. Wrap foil to form an airtight package, but allow space for gravy to form; bake in a preheated 325-degree oven for 3 to 4 hours. Slice meat across the grain, and serve with pan juices and vegetables. (Six servings)

Here's another, from "Pirate's Pantry" Cookbook, a compilation of Southwest Louisiana recipes by the Junior League of Lake Charles, La.

BRISKET

4 to 5 lbs. beef brisket
2 cups barbecue sauce (your own or other)

4-oz. bottle liquid smoke

Mix the sauce and liquid smoke together, and marinate brisket (reserving some of the sauce for serving) for at least four hours or overnight. Wrap in heavy duty foil and seal tightly. Bake in roasting pan at 275-300 degrees for four hours.

Slice half-inch thick and serve with baked beans and potato salad. Recipe may be doubled, baking an hour per pound, and freezes well. (Six servings)

Brisket is also tasty in the classic Creole or French "boiled beef" (really long-simmered beef) dishes, either whole or cut into smaller pieces, as in:

BOILED BRISKET WITH HORSE RADISH SAUCE

3 lbs. fresh brisket, cut in 2-inch squares

1 onion, cut in quarters
1 clove garlic, chopped
1 rib celery, cut in bite-sized pieces

1 bay leaf, crushed
2 carrots, cut in bite-sized pieces

1/4 tsp. each thyme and oregano

1 tsp. each salt and pepper
Place all ingredients in large, heavy pot, bring to boil, then lower heat and simmer just below boiling point, for two hours (adding more water if needed to keep covered) until tender.

Serve with horseradish sauce (mix horseradish with pepper, salt and ketchup to taste. The liquid, of course, makes a good stock, and may be reduced as desired for other uses—also from "Pirate's Pantry."

And, or course you may prefer to pick up one of the beef chuck roasts, center cut, bone-in, now offered at attractive prices at the markets, or a shoulder steak or some beef spare ribs, all good in braised dishes. And, take a look at the special offers on light calf steaks, lower in fat with fewer calories.

Turkey breasts are specially priced, as are chicken breasts and whole fryers. So are hams, Hickory smoked, for instance, shank and butt portions, as well as center cut steaks or roasts, and turkey hams as well.

I shall cook a center slice of ham this Old-South "Soul Cooking" way:

HAM BAKED IN MILK

Ham Slice, 2-inch thick
1 Tbsp. flour
2 heaping teaspoons dry mustard

2 Tbsp. brown sugar
Milk as needed

Combine the flour, dry mustard and brown sugar, and work the mixture into both sides of the ham, then place in a baking dish, and cover it completely with "sweet milk" as our family cook, Mary, used to say of this dish.

Bake at 350 degrees for approximately an hour, or until the ham is tender. When the ham is done, its surface should be browned, and the milk almost entirely absorbed.

Bake some sweet potatoes to go with this dish.

In the fresh vegetable department, there's still lots of fresh corn and vine-ripe tomatoes, along with okra, cucumbers, green (snap) beans and squash on hand at good prices; and as for fruits, the fall apple crops are coming into the markets, and pears and grapes, along with oranges and grapefruit, are in good supply, also.

Delchamps recalls French cut green beans

In response to the recall by Lakeside Packing, Delchamps has removed Food Club Blue Lake French Cut Green Beans coded GFCZC-18170 from the shelves of its 110 stores in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and the Florida Panhandle.

Delchamps customers are urged to check at home. If a customer has a can of beans with the published code number, he may simply bring it back to Delchamps for a refund.

Can Arthritis Really Be Cured?

It's a simple question, one we've asked all the time. The answer is yes. And no.

The first thing we need to find out is what kind of arthritis you have. As in all fields of medicine, making the right diagnosis comes before prescribing the right treatment.

As rheumatologists, we're M.D.s trained and Board Certified in Internal Medicine and, in Dr. Marielisa Sedrish's case, in Pediatrics as well. After completing the exhaustive training required to become a "primary care physician" (e.g. Internist, Pediatrician, Family Practitioner), a physician must dedicate at least two more years studying arthritis and immune diseases to become a rheumatologist.

That time is spent recognizing and treating the dozens of different types of arthritis. And by narrowing the field of study to one area, it becomes possible to keep up with all the research into new treatments of these crippling diseases.

Working with your primary care doctor, we may be able to get your arthritis under control and prevent it from doing further damage. And if yours is one of the curable forms of arthritis, such as Lyme Disease, then of course the news is even better.

Welty exhibit opens at Bay City Hall

Special to the Echo

From 500 negatives recently deposited in the Department of Archives and History, the State Historical Museum has assembled an exhibit of the rare in its document of a writer's early life.

"Eudora," a photo album look at Eudora Welty's childhood the publication of her first book in 1941, does much more, however, than merely document events. Security and love, balanced with the freedom and encouragement to explore and inquire, are felt in these pictures, which are displayed alongside comments by Welty.

The exhibit will be showing through Nov. 1 in the first floor lobby of Bay St. Louis City Hall. Throughout her career, Miss Welty has written of the family as "the deepest spring" in the heart.

In the recently published One Writer's Beginning, Welty said of her work that almost from the beginning and "from various points within it and from outside it, I've been writing about the structure of the family in stories and novels."

The photographs in the exhibit were taken primarily by Welty's father, Christian Webb Welty, and comprise the most recent addition to the Eudora Welty Collection at the Department of Archives and History.

The first acquisition, obtained in 1957, included original manuscripts of 11 works. Since then, the collection has expanded to include manuscripts, letters, photographs, first editions, translations, critical studies, theses and newspaper clippings.

"Eudora" is part of the traveling exhibits program of the State Historical Museum, Jackson, where the exhibit originated and was first shown. The museum is a division of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, a state agency.

"This is the second exhibit made available to the residents and visitors of Bay St. Louis through the Department of Archives and History. We know it will be enjoyed as much as the 'Natchez Victorian Children' exhibit," said Michael Cuevas, clerk of the city council, who is responsible for City Hall exhibits.

City Hall lobby is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. For further information about the exhibit, call Cuevas at 467-9092.

Eudora

Family photographs of Eudora Welty, Mississippi's most acclaimed contemporary writer, are included in the exhibit, which will be shown through Nov. 1 in the Bay St. Louis City Hall first floor lobby.

Mississippi is a mighty name.

The Mississippi River flows through 10 states. Water from 21 other states joins the Mississippi to make it one of the largest river systems in the world. We are lucky to share the name of the longest river in the United States.

Mississippi is an Indian word that means "Father of Waters." The Spanish explorer named Hernando de Soto discovered the river in 1541, but many years passed before it was settled by white men. Indian canoes were replaced with log rafts, then steamboats, then barges.

Enough water flows through the "Mighty Mississippi" each day to give every man, woman and child in the world 60 gallons of water. And each year, 460 million tons of steel, coal and other goods move down the river. That is the same as filling 11.2 million large trucks.

The river begins at a small lake in Minnesota and ends at the Gulf of Mexico. Its trip through our state is 410 miles long.

Public Notices

FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

The Department of the Army has available for public review and comment the Finding of No Significant Impact (FNSI) to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) for the proposed MSAAP (Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant) located at the Stennis Space Center, MS 39520-7000. The FNSI along with the EA is available for public review during normal business hours at: Gulfport Public Library, 21st Ave. and 14th St., Gulfport, MS 39502; Crosby Memorial Library, 900 Goodyear Blvd., Piquette, MS 39357; Slidell Public Library, 555 Robert Blvd., Slidell, LA 70688; Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, Admin. Bldg., 9110 Stennis Space Center, MS 39520-7000. Written comments will be accepted for a 15-day period ending October 11, 1990. Comments may be mailed to: Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, ATTN: SMCMS-CO, Stennis Space Center, MS 39520-7000. Questions regarding these documents may be addressed by calling CPT Larry Simonds at telephone: (601) 467-8502.

FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT FOR THE LAYWAY OF THE MISSISSIPPI ARMY AMMUNITION PLANT (AAP), STENNIS SPACE CENTER, MS 39520-7000
PROPOSED ACTION: The U. S. Army proposes to layaway the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant (MSAAP). This includes the layaway of production and support facilities, realign/reduce personnel (Government and Contractor) and dispose of industrial stocks. The installation would be placed in an inactive status to be retained for mobilization purposes. Monitoring and protection of the natural resources of the MSAAP property will continue during the layaway status of the plant. The proposed action would balance war reserves, training requirements and operational requirements of the M483 155MM projectile to other Army requirements. If implemented, 14 government and approximately 815 contractor jobs will be eliminated.

ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT: Headquarters, U.S. Army Ammunition, Munitions and Chemical Command has prepared an Environmental Assessment, pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and implementing regulations, to assess the potential environmental consequences of accomplishing the layaway of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant. The Environmental Assessment is incorporated by reference into this Finding of No Significant Impact (FNSI). A copy of the Environmental Assessment may be obtained from LTC Harry Sawyer, ATTN: SMCMS-CO, Stennis Space Center, Mississippi 39520-7000 (telephone: (601) 467-8600).

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED IN THE ASSESSMENT: Excessing was considered as a possible alternative but was determined to be infeasible with meeting the Army's mobilization requirements. Consideration was given to converting to other manufacturing operations but this alternative would also impact on the Army's mobilization requirements and was determined not to be feasible. The alternative of contracting or leasing the MSAAP facility was not considered because of the Army's inability to quantify at this time the environmental consequences. Accordingly, the Environmental Assessment evaluated the environmental consequences of accomplishing the layaway, and the alternative of taking "No Action" which, although not feasible, was included as required by regulation and as a baseline for comparing the effects of the proposed layaway.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACTS: The proposed action has been reviewed in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act as implemented by the regulations of the President's Council on Environmental Quality and Army Regulation 200-2, Environmental Effects of Army Actions. Baseline environmental conditions have been described.

The proposed layaway will have minor beneficial effects on air, water usage, and hazardous and toxic wastes due to decreased production and employment at Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant. Minor adverse impacts are associated with socioeconomic effects to the region none of the effects will have, either individually or cumulatively, a significant effect on the environment.

CONCLUSION: Based on the evaluation of environmental consequences in this Environmental Assessment, the proposed layaway would not have a significant effect on the human (i.e., physical or natural) environment. While the layaway may have some adverse local socioeconomic effects, these would not directly impact the physical or natural environment. Since socioeconomic effects are not sufficient by themselves to require preparation of an Environmental Impact Statement, an Environmental Impact Statement is not required and will not be prepared.

PUBLIC COMMENT: A copy of the Environmental Assessment has been furnished to relevant federal, state and local agencies and the local unions. Any comments on the adequacy of the assessment or on the conclusion that an Environmental Impact Statement is not required should be sent to the Commander, Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, ATTN: SMCMS-CO, Stennis Space Center, MS 39520-7000 and must be received by 4:00 p.m., October 11, 1990.

Laurel the site of bluegrass festival

Lonesome Pines Bluegrass Festival will kick off Oct. 11 in Laurel with bluegrass fans from all over the country expected for the event.

The show will continue through Oct. 13 and will feature top-name bands from the world of bluegrass music.

Jim & Jesse will headline the Friday and Saturday show with Mac Wiseman scheduled to headline the Thursday show. In addition, Warrior River will appear Thursday and Bill Mounce, Don Wiley and a host of others will join Jim & Jesse for the weekend.

Showtime will be 4:30 p.m. Thursday and 1 p.m. both Friday and Saturday in the Bluegrass Park located west of Laurel just off Hwy. 28.

Lonesome Pines will feature bluegrass music, but there will also be arts and crafts booths and food concessions on the grounds. A puppet show is also featured on Sunday at 12:30 for the children.

The park offers camping hookups and usually there are more than 200 campers attending the show.

Tickets are $8 per day of $22 for the three days for adults. Information about the show may be obtained by calling 601-729-2691, 729-2932, or 729-2749. Festival goers are encouraged to bring lawn chairs as the show is outside. No alcoholic beverages are allowed.

Hancock, Bay-Waveland schools seek to identify handicapped students

The Hancock County and Bay St. Louis school districts are participating in an ongoing effort to identify, locate and evaluate children birth through 21 years of age who are physically, mentally, communicatively or emotionally handicapped.

Programs that are available in these districts serve students who are educationally handicapped, multi-handicapped, emotionally handicapped, physically handicapped, learning disabled and visually impaired.

Speech/language therapy is also available in these school districts. Cooperative efforts with other school districts provide services for deaf and hard-of-hearing students who need services not provided in the local districts.

All information which could identify an individual child as being in need of special education services will be maintained by the Hancock County and Bay St. Louis-Waveland Districts and will be provided to other agencies only in accordance with the Family Rights and Privacy Act and EHA-B.

The earlier a child who is in need of special education can be identified, the greater the opportunity for providing appropriate educational experiences to meet that child's individual educational needs.

Personnel in the district's special education department will assist in having the child evaluated and placed in an appropriate special education program according to procedures established by the State Department of Education.

If there is a need, parents also will be referred to other agencies which may be able to provide services to their child.

Sherry M. Ponder, special education director, and her staff are responsible for conducting an awareness campaign on an annual basis, contacting social service agencies twice annually, coordinating handicapped referrals, and initiating the evaluation process for any child who is referred.

When a child is referred, a meeting will be scheduled with the parents to explain their rights, confidentiality procedures and due process procedures regarding their child's evaluation and placement.

Once a referral is made, the Child Find coordinator insures the referral-to-placement procedures are followed. The coordinator works with the Local Survey Committee at each school to ensure an explanation of parents' rights is provided.

The Child Find coordinator also assures consent for testing is obtained from the parents and a nondiscriminatory evaluation is conducted. If the child is ruled eligible for services, an individualized education plan is developed for the student and permission for placement in an appropriate program will be obtained.

If you are aware of a child who demonstrates characteristics of behavior(s) indicative of a handicap, please contact Ponder at 467-1021 or 467-2031.
